Are you ready for college???

Student's Step-By-Step Planning Guide

Discover the possibilities for life after high school. If you've decided to attend college, or even if you're not sure yet, you'll find this planning guide helpful as you prepare for the career of your dreams. REMEMBER. . . DON'T WAIT, START NOW!

Junior Year - Fall

- ☐ Start investigating post-high school education opportunities and research the different types of schools and training opportunities available.
- ☐ Choose a specific career that you'd like to pursue and visit with your high school guidance counselor regarding schools that will fulfill your educational and career goals.
- ☐ Review your recent and current class schedules with your school counselor to verify that you have taken, or are taking, those classes that will help you succeed in college and in your career.
- ☐ Attend career and college fairs and presentations.
- ☐ List the schools you are considering and send for literature. Request their admissions and financial aid information also. Find out if the school requires ACT or SAT. Also ask how many applications they require, such as for admission, financial aid, and scholarships.
- ☐ Maintain good records during this entire process. Make copies of everything you send.
- ☐ Read all college materials you receive carefully. Decide what you want from an institution: major, location, athletics, reputation, etc. Then, compare the requirements for admission and financial aid. (The College Comparison Sheet, found on the next page, should be helpful to you.)
- ☐ If you did not take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) in the 10th grade, take it now to prepare for college admissions tests and to establish eligibility for the National Merit Scholarship.
- ☐ Acquire a study guide for the ACT/SAT and start to prepare for the test.

Junior Year - Spring

- ☐ Take the SAT and/or ACT (depending on what is required by the institutions you're interested in attending.) Your high school guidance counselor can provide you with the test dates and descriptive brochures.
- ☐ Start to narrow your list of post-high school options. Make plans to visit the facilities that are most appealing to you.
- ☐ Research scholarship opportunities and visit at least two types of colleges; i.e., large/small, community college/university, academic/technical.
- ☐ Contact organizations sponsoring scholarships that you're eligible for and request information.
- ☐ Develop a resume of high school activities and awards, if you haven't already done so, and update as needed.
- ☐ Find a summer job to set aside money for school.
- ☐ Start submitting applications to schools of your choice. Some colleges will accept applications once your junior year is completed. Keep copies of everything you send.

Senior Year - Fall

- ☐ Double check that you are taking the courses that will meet the admissions requirements of the post-high school institution that you are planning to attend.
- ☐ Take the SAT or ACT again if you need a higher score to meet admission requirements, to be eligible for certain scholarships, or if you didn't take it your junior year.
- ☐ Apply to the colleges you are considering EARLY. Generally, during December, January, or February you may apply for regular admission.
- ☐ Watch for important scholarship and financial aid information and visit your counselor for scholarship opportunities and applications. Be aware of deadlines and plan accordingly.
- ☐ Think about what you want to say in your college essay.
- ☐ Ask teachers to write letters of recommendation for you if they are required for admission or scholarships.

Senior Year - Winter

- ☐ Work with your parents to collect financial aid information and attend financial aid workshops together.
- ☐ Pick up a financial aid application and submit. The most commonly used form in Idaho to seek federal financial aid is the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Get it ready and mail the FAFSA after January 1. You may also need to fill out a separate form for institutional or state aid.
- ☐ Keep working on scholarship and financial aid applications. Remember to respond immediately to any requests for more information or for additional documents in your financial aid application.
- ☐ Who's home from college for the holidays? Visit with them about their college experience.
- ☐ Remind your parents to prepare their income tax statements as early as possible, since a photocopy of their return must be sent to most schools to which you have applied.

Senior Year - Spring

- ☐ Read all of your mail!! There may be important news.
- ☐ You should be hearing from colleges now. After you receive letters of acceptance and financial aid awards, decide which school you'll attend.
- ☐ Mail in your acceptance form and deposit check as soon as possible. Pay attention to all deadlines and make sure that your applications are sent in on time. Ask about campus housing deadlines, specifically, because student housing fills up quickly.
- ☐ Review the financial aid package of the school of your choice with your parents. Be sure you understand each type of aid offered. Schedule an appointment with the school's financial aid director if you have questions. Don't forget to sign the financial aid award letter and return it by the deadline.
- ☐ Notify the financial aid office of the scholarships that you are receiving.
- ☐ Decline offers received from other institutions or organizations in writing.
- ☐ Complete any separate applications for loans you decide to accept.
- ☐ Participate in orientation programs for incoming freshmen offered by the school of your choice.

Congratulations on graduating from high school and good luck in your new adventure!

How Do I Avoid Scholarship Scams?

If you have to pay money to get money, it's probably a scam.

Finding financial aid is no simple task. Financial aid experts advise students to be prepared to put in hours of research and paperwork. Unfortunately, many students and their families are overwhelmed by the work involved and are still unaware of the free sources of financial aid information. They end up paying hundreds of dollars to companies offering to help them find money for college. These services use information about the student and family to provide information about scholarships for which the student "may" be eligible. In addition to providing scholarship source lists, some of these services claim to actually help with students' applications, or "do the work for you."

People who have paid for such services report problems, such as out-of-date scholarship contact names and addresses, or scholarships that are strictly for people of another race, gender, or age group appearing on a "personalized" list furnished by the service. Some of the listed scholarships are for specific disciplines and many students are ineligible. Many sources on the lists actually turn out to be either loan programs or contests. Some fraudulent companies require the student to apply for every scholarship or grant on the company's list and to provide proof of rejection for each one before giving any refund, conditions that are not disclosed until after the student pays the up-front fee. Because many of the sources on the lists don't provide scholarships or have expired deadlines, it may be impossible for consumers to obtain the required rejection letters.

Be wary of scholarships with an application fee, scholarship-matching services who guarantee success, advance-fee loan scams, and sales pitches disguised as financial aid "seminars." Compare the private search company's offer to the information available before paying for this information. About 95 percent of college aid comes from state or federal government agencies. If students are suspicious of a scholarship offer, they should visit their high school guidance counselor, or those out of high school should call or visit a college financial aid office.

Idaho Attorney General's Consumer Protection Unit

According to the Idaho Office of the Attorney General, "students and their parents should realize that applying for college aid is hard work and that only the student can complete applications, gather recommendations, and write the essays required. No company is going to do all that even for a large fee."

For example:

Only students and their parents have the information required to compute "official" financial need; to accurately complete government and institutional financial aid forms; to understand their own goals and preferences; and to sort through the thousands of scholarships, loans, and grants that are available each year.

Once a list of prospective sources of aid is assembled, only the student can complete the application materials. At a minimum, there will be an application form to fill out, as well as projects, a resume, a letter, or a collection of references.

The Idaho Attorney General's Consumer Protection Unit has a tip sheet that discusses services that offer financial aid searches for a fee. You can access this tip sheet by calling 1-800-432-3545, or go online to www.state.id.us/ag/. Once you access this web site, click on Consumer Protection, click Tip Sheets and Information, and then click on Searching for Scholarships.

Campus Life

Life is meant to be experienced, not just observed. Activities at BYU-Idaho add a rich variety of programs for a rewarding life beyond the classroom. Elder Henry B. Eyring stated, "This activity program... is leadership training of the broadest and most exciting kind." Activities are structured within four areas: Arts, Enrichment, Physical, and Social. It's a matter of choice. The invitation is open to all students to get involved: Life. Changing. Experience.

- Participants have the opportunity to act rather than be acted upon.
- Students are participants rather than spectators.

- A wide range of activities meet the diverse interests and abilities of students

In addition to the Student Activities Program, we also have the following:

Admission Requirements

BYU-Idaho exists to provide an education consistent with the religious and family values taught by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. We admit persons without regard to gender, race, creed, religion, national origin, age, or disability who meet the requirements; who agree to abide by the Honor Code and Dress and Grooming Standards; and who are otherwise qualified based upon available space.

In selecting a class of about 4,000 new freshman, the admissions committee considers the following: church and seminary activity (LDS), personal commitment to living the standards, academic preparation, ACT or SAT, out-of-class activities, and essays.

Three Track System

BYU-Idaho is operating on an extended year-round basis to allow more students the opportunity to attend. One out of every three qualified students who applied to attend Ricks College in the late 1990s was denied admission due to lack of campus resources. The need for change was obvious.

Our innovative calendar revolves around three semesters: summer, fall, and winter. When applying, choose a track consisting of two of the three semesters: Summer/Fall, Fall/Winter, or Winter/Summer.

By the year 2005, BYU-Idaho's anticipated enrollment will be 11,600 on campus at any one time. By rotating tracks, the total number served in a calendar year will be 14,500. By accepting the Three-Track System, our students are creating the opportunity for nearly 3,000 more to attend each year.

Summer/Fall Track
85% of applicants accepted

Fall/Winter Track
55% of applicants accepted

Winter/Summer Track
90% of applicants accepted

Interstate Programs for Idaho Students

In some specialized fields of study, Idaho has too few students to warrant the establishment of expensive programs. In order to provide Idahoans a full range of educational opportunities at a reasonable cost, the state has established the following programs in cooperation with other states.

Medicine

University of Washington School of Medicine: The Washington Wyoming-Alaska-Montana-Idaho (WWAMI) Regional Medical Education Program allows a limited number of Idaho students the opportunity to study medicine using the combined resources of the University of Idaho and the University of Washington School of Medicine in Seattle. Idaho partially subsidizes the cost of fees and tuition for each Idaho student admitted to the program. For more information, contact the WWAMI Medical Education Program, University of Idaho, Box 44207, Moscow, ID 83844, (208) 885-6696, www.webs.uidaho.edu/wwami.

University of Utah School of Medicine: A limited number of Idaho residents are admitted to this medical education program under an agreement with the University of Utah. Idaho partially subsidizes the cost of tuition and fees for each Idaho student admitted. For residency certification, contact Office of Enrollment Services, Idaho State University, P.O. Box 8270, Pocatello, ID 83209, (208) 282-3940, <http://uuhsc.utah.edu/som>.

Idaho Rural Physician Incentive Program

The 2003 Idaho Legislature established the Idaho Rural Physician Incentive Program to encourage primary care physicians to practice in medically underserved areas of the state. Beginning with the Fall 2003 semester, all first-year medical education students will be assessed a fee equal to 4% of the annual average medical support fee paid by the state. The fee collected by the State Board of Education will be deposited into the Rural Physician Incentive Fund to repay the educational debts of rural physicians who practice primary care medicine in medically underserved areas of the state that demonstrate a need for assistance in physician recruitment.

Veterinary Medicine

The Washington-Oregon-Idaho (WOI) Regional Veterinary Medical Education Program allows a limited number of Idaho students the opportunity to study veterinary medicine using the combined resources of the University of Idaho Animal and Veterinary Science Department, Caine Veterinary Teaching Center and Washington State University College of Veterinary Medicine in Pullman. Idaho partially subsidizes the cost of fees and tuition for each Idaho student admitted. For more information, contact Dr. James England, Director, Caine Veterinary Teaching Center, (208) 454-8657, or Dr. R.A. Battaglia, Head, Animal & Veterinary Science Department, University of Idaho, Moscow, ID 83844, (208) 885-6345, or AVS Dept. website <http://www.vetmed.wsu.edu>.

Dentistry

The Idaho Dental Education Program provides financial support for a limited number of Idaho students admitted to the School of Dentistry at Creighton University in Omaha, NE. For current information on the program, contact Dr. Steven Friedrichsen, Chair, Idaho Dental Education Program, Idaho State University, P.O. Box 8088, Pocatello, ID 83209, (208) 282-3289, <http://www.isu.edu/departments/idep>.

Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE) Programs

Under the Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE), undergraduate students from Idaho may enroll in participating institutions in other western states at a reduced tuition rate. The Professional Student Exchange Program enables students to enroll in a participating out-of-state professional optometry program at a reduced cost. The Western Regional Graduate Program provides Idaho residents an opportunity to enroll at a reduced cost in certain high quality distinctive graduate programs not available in Idaho.

For more information, contact Lynn Humphrey, State Board of Education, P.O. Box 83720, Boise, ID 83720-0037, (208) 332-1574 or Lhumphre@osbe.state.id.us, or WICHE's website at <http://www.wiche.edu>.

Idaho-Washington Reciprocity Program

The Idaho-Washington Reciprocity Program is a special cooperative effort between Idaho and Washington which permits a limited number of Idaho residents to attend Eastern Washington University or Walla Walla Community College with a partial or full waiver of non-resident tuition. First priority is given to Idaho residents who are currently enrolled or seeking enrollment in baccalaureate or graduate degree programs not available in Idaho. For more information, students should contact the Washington institution they want to attend or the Washington Higher Education Coordinating Board, 917 Lakeridge Way, Olympia, WA 98504-3430, (360) 753-7800.

Idaho State University-Utah State University Scholarship

The Idaho State University-Utah State University Scholarship permits a limited number of Idaho residents to attend Utah State University with a full non-resident tuition waiver. Additionally, the 100 Mile Radius Waiver permits students whose homes are within 100 miles of Utah State University to attend USU with a partial waiver of out-of-state tuition. For further information about these programs, contact Recruitment and Enrollment Services, Utah State University, Logan, UT 84322, (800) 488-8108, <http://www.wsu.edu/scholarships/freshman-scholarships-non.html>.

Idaho-Technical College System

Professional-Technical education is needed for the vast majority of jobs in the United States. Many of the fastest growing occupations are those which require specific education beyond a high school diploma, but not a traditional 4-year college degree. Idaho colleges and universities, through their technical colleges and technical college programs, can provide that education. Programs and activities of the technical colleges are under the governance of the Idaho Board of Professional-Technical Education and are coordinated as a state system by the Idaho Division of Professional-Technical Education.

Program Information

A wide range of programs in colleges located in every region of the state prepare students for a rewarding career, while providing the education that meets the latest employment needs of business, industry and the public sector. Most programs lead to either an Associate of Applied Science degree or a certificate representing the completion of specific sequences and industry approved competencies in one to three years. In addition, campuses are creating ways to combine technical education and degrees with the more traditional academic education to create even more opportunities for students. See page 38 for a listing of technical programs in Idaho.

Opportunities for Students

Industry-based Instruction: Students receive hands-on education and training in the field of their choice under the supervision of certified instructors with years of work experience.

Smaller Classes: Low student to teacher ratios in most professional-technical programs give students more personalized attention from instructors.

Job Specific Training: For many professional-technical programs, students participate in off-campus study or internships such as clinical experience and apprenticeships.

Employment: Idaho's professional-technical education programs produce skills that lead to successful employment and higher than average salaries.

Tech Prep Advantage: More than 360 Tech Prep programs are in place throughout Idaho. Students who enroll in these programs while in high school learn technical and academic skills, use real world applications and may qualify for college credit in professional-technical programs.

Professional-Technical Student Organizations

Professional-technical student organizations at the college level provide unique leadership training and skill development through practical, hands-on experience. State and national conferences and competitive events highlight activities of these groups.

- BPA - Business Professionals of America, an organization for students enrolled in business and office technology
- DEX - Delta Epsilon Chi, the post-secondary division of DECA, the national association of marketing students
- IPAS - Idaho Postsecondary Agricultural Students, an organization of Idaho students associated with agriculture/agribusiness and natural resources
- Skills USA -VICA - an organization for students in trade, industrial, technical and health occupations training

Admissions Requirements

Idaho's Technical College System practices open enrollment – anyone who needs educational services that can be provided by the system is allowed to enter at some level. For students who seek a technical certificate or AAS degree, standard requirements for regular admission include: a high school diploma with minimum 2.0 GPA; a placement examination; and satisfactory completion of high school coursework that includes at least the following:

- 4 credits from challenging math sequences (2 credits to be taken in the 11th or 12th grade)
- 4 credits natural science
- 8 credits English (Applied English in the workplace may be counted as English credit)

Placement test scores indicating potential for success are generally required for enrollment in a professional-technical program of choice. Placement score requirements may vary according to the program.

For more information about admission into specific programs, contact the admissions office at one of the technical colleges.

Financial Aid

Idaho technical colleges participate in all federal and state student financial aid programs providing grants, loans and college work study.

- Students interested in applying for scholarships to individual institutions should check with their high school counselor by December for applications and deadlines
- The State of Idaho Scholarship and the Idaho Governor's Challenge Scholarship provide scholarships for professional-technical students. Students should check with their high school counselor for more information
- In addition, scholarships are available through student professional-technical organization foundations and private businesses that support professional-technical education in Idaho. Contact the Scholarship or Financial Aid Office at the technical college of choice

College is an investment in your future, so it is important to plan ahead. Fortunately, there are many forms of financial aid to help you and your family manage the costs. While your high school guidance counselor can provide you with specific information, here are some general sources of what's available. Also, see page 10 for helpful tips on avoiding scholarship scams.

TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID

Scholarships

Awarded for a variety of reasons, such as financial need, good grades, special talents, or career plans. For details, contact the scholarship office of your chosen school.

Grants

State or Federal money based on financial need that you don't need to repay.

College Work-Study

Money you can earn for school by working part-time for the college or university that you attend.

Loans

Borrowed money you must repay with interest.

Getting Financial Aid

- 1 To apply for federal financial aid, complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form during your senior year in high school. See your counselor for a copy of the form or download or complete the FAFSA online at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov/>. Make sure you are aware of important deadlines.
- 2 Academic institutions are not the only agencies offering scholarships, so check with local organizations, such as: your parent's place of employment; your church; civic or community groups such as American Legion, YMCA, 4-H, Elks, Masons, Kiwanis, Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, and Rotary; government agencies; and foundations. Libraries and the Internet are good resources to research financial aid opportunities.
- 3 Talk with your counselor about potential sources of financial aid. (See pages 41-42 for scholarship opportunities offered by the State of Idaho).
- 4 Institutions offer a variety of scholarships and financial aid programs to assist students with continuing education costs. Contact the admissions and/or financial aid offices at the schools you are interested in attending to obtain information about financial aid opportunities. Idaho colleges and universities, specifically, offer a variety of scholarships and financial aid opportunities-See chart on page 42 for deadlines.

Bill" education benefits through their "Certifying Official" and "Veteran's Affairs" offices, frequently associated with the Registrar's or Financial Aid Offices at colleges and universities. Students eligible to receive VA education benefits should contact that office prior to registration to assure timely submission of claims.
